The diagram illustrates the layout of the 1000 Series Form, which is used for recording ship and aircraft data. The form is divided into several sections, each with a corresponding number:

- SHIP TYPE and HULL NUMBER: These are the main categories of the form.
- YEAR, MONTH, ZONE, and DAY: These fields are used for recording the date and time of the event.
- CLASS and HANDL: These fields are used for recording the classification and handling of the data.
- USS and AT/PASSAGE FROM: These fields are used for recording the ship or aircraft involved in the event.
- TO: This field is used for recording the destination or location of the event.

The form is numbered 1 through 22, with some numbers corresponding to specific fields or sections:

- 1: D
- 2: A
- 3-4: SHIP TYPE
- 5-7: HULL NUMBER
- 12: YEAR
- 13-14: MONTH
- 15: ZONE
- 16-17: DAY

The diagram illustrates the layout of the 1000 Series Form, which is used for reporting ship sightings. The form is divided into several sections, each with a corresponding number:

- SHIP TYPE (1) and HULL NUMBER (2): These are the primary identification fields.
- YEAR (3), MONTH (4), ZONE (5), and DAY (6): These fields provide temporal and spatial context for the sighting.
- USS (7) and AT/PASSAGE FROM (8): These fields identify the reporting unit and the source of the information.
- TO (9): This field indicates the destination or the entity to which the report is being sent.
- CLASS (10) and HANDL (11): These fields are used for classification and handling instructions.

The form is designed to be filled out by a reporting unit, with the information being passed on to the appropriate authorities for further action.

The diagram shows a perspective view of a ship's hull. The hull is divided into two main sections: the bow (left) and the stern (right). The bow section is labeled 'SHIP TYPE' and contains the text 'C.U.' (likely 'Cruiser'). The stern section is labeled 'HULL NUMBER' and contains the text '0.4.3'. Below the hull, there are two rows of labels: '1 2 3-4' and '5-7', which correspond to the positions of the hull sections.

The diagram shows a cross-section of a ship's hull. It is divided into two main sections: 'SHIP TYPE' on the left and 'HULL NUMBER' on the right. Below these sections, there are two rows of labels: 'D' and 'A' for the ship type section, and 'C.V.' and 'Ø.4.3' for the hull number section. The hull number section is further divided into two sub-sections: '3-4' and '5-7'.
